COMMUNITY | EMPOWERMENT | HOPE

THE NEED

Recent data indicates that there are almost half a million youth in our nation's foster care system.

Every year, over 20,000 youth in the foster care system age out, entering adulthood while losing essential support services, whether they have the skills to do so effectively or not.

While many youth in foster care are reunited with relatives after a short period of time, more than 28% of youth in foster care remain in the system two years or longer. Young people who have grown up within the foster care system have experienced instability in their lives and often disproportionately suffer with learning disabilities, limited life skills, health issues, and emotional and behavioral struggles that lead to negative developmental outcomes.

In addition to the trauma caused by the disruption to their family and home environment, youth in foster care often have a wide variety of other serious emotional and physical needs including:

Difficulty forming healthy relationships with adults and peers

Chronic health problems

Substance abuse, juvenile delinquency, or involvement in risky behaviors

Delays in academics and educational progress, which put them behind their peers developmentally

OUR SOLUTION

You will commit to showing up in meaningful ways at least once a month. Love Boxes can be personalized care packages to meet practical needs or it can be the act of bringing a meal, babysitting, or taking the kids to do a specific activity. You have the freedom to get creative! The only thing we ask is that you commit to writing handwritten encouraging notes for each of the children and caregivers.

HOW DOES THIS MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

- ☆ Providing support to caregivers allows for a more stable and nurturing environment and empowers parents to focus on what matters - what the child needs to heal.
- ☆ Providing a child with typical childhood experiences (playdates, extracurriculars, camps) helps promote positive mental health, emotional well-being, and identity formation.
- ☆ Providing multiple healthy role models to develop authentic connections is essential for children to learn to create healthy trust-based relationships with supportive secondary adults - YOU!
- ☆ Providing opportunities for children and youth to learn skills, practice new things, get excited about education, and be exposed to developmental growth helps prepare them for independent living.

"The consistent, enduring presence of a caring adult in a young person's life can be the difference between staying in school or dropping out, making healthy decisions or engaging in risky behaviors, and realizing one's potential or failing to achieve one's dreams."

(Bruce and Bridgeland, 2014)

PROGRAM BASICS

Minimum of a year's worth of monthly support (deliveries and/or activities) with a specific foster family. We match you intentionally, based on proximity and the family's scope of needs

You work with your Love Box family to determine a schedule that works best for you both. You will commit to initiate contact with the family each month.

The Love Box drop off or hangout can take place anywhere (a park, your home, a restaurant, etc.) but typically at the fostering family's house.

Show children, youth, and caregivers that they matter and are important. Your role is to build a relationship with the children and serve as a mentor as well as to provide the parents with support and community.

We are completely volunteer based and can only grow our impact by good people (like YOU!) stepping up and helping out. Thank you for investing in serving the foster care community.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Where do we get our boxes?

Your case manager will supply your group with boxes. However, a box is not required if you would prefer to deliver your items in a different way or if your support is more “outside of the box!”

Do we have to fill a box for each child in the home or does the whole family get one?

You can create individual boxes, but we recommend one box for the whole family with items for each person in the home. You may also want to create just one box with general household items (but don't forget notes for everyone!).

How does a volunteer group find out what the foster family's needs are?

The Love Box leader has a contact number for the caregiver and is responsible for building a relationship with them, as well as finding out what the needs/wants are for the children and family each month. We suggest taking the initiative to give ideas and options- it can be so overwhelming for some parents to ask for help!

Are we allowed to be left alone with the children?

Not unless you choose to be approved as a babysitter or respite provider. We encourage all groups to nominate one Love Box member to complete this process. Deeper relationships form when volunteers are able to have one-on-one mentorship, taking children on special outings, providing transportation for the fostering family, and being able to give the parents a break.

Is there a financial limit we can spend on the family?

No, there is no limit, but we ask that you spend a reasonable amount. This program is about consistent support, meaningful connections, and experiences. We want the program to focus more on relationships than the care packages.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Are we allowed to ask personal questions?

No, please do not attempt to get information from the children or foster parents about why the children are in foster care. It's up to the child whether or not they share any information with the volunteer.

Are we allowed to hug a child?

We ask that you do not initially attempt physical contact with the child. Over time and with trust they might initiate it. Please be aware that children in foster care often have inappropriate or non-existent boundaries due to abuse/neglect and need help in establishing healthy emotional and physical boundaries. Always keep this in mind. A great way to establish healthy touch is to start with a fist-bump or high-five.

Are we allowed to take pictures of the children?

You may only take pictures if you've been given permission by the child and caregivers. Even if you are given permission to take a picture of a child in foster care, you are NOT allowed to post any picture of the child to social media or share in a public setting due to privacy and confidentiality as well as the safety of the child.

What if I have a concern?

If you ever have a concern about your volunteer group, the foster family, or any children in care, we ask that you speak with your Bakersfield Angels case manager and they will go over the best way to proceed. It's important to navigate any issue as carefully as possible. It is important to note that you are a mandated reporter and if you have cause to have any suspicion of child abuse or neglect you are required by law to report to the relevant authorities.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Do I have to provide a box each month?

No. Many volunteers choose to pay for an activity, event, extracurricular activity, babysit or take the family on an outing, etc., in the place of a traditional “Love Box”. Every family has unique and diverse needs and requires different types of support.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS

We do birthdays BIG at Bakersfield Angels!

We know birthdays can be hard for many children in foster care because they are not with their families or because they have not had an opportunity or the resources to celebrate their birthdays. You can help support your family as they plan parties! Here are some practical ways you can help children be CELEBRATED:

- Buy a personalized birthday cake based on the child's interests
- Provide the favors for the party
- Provide decorations (balloons, streamers, banners, etc.) and help decorate the house the day of the party (and clean up when it's done)
- Find a location for the party
- Plan a drive-by birthday parade
- Show up at the party and celebrate an amazing child!

NATIONAL ANGELS C.H.A.T.S.

(Connection, Healing, Advocacy, Teaching, Support)

National Angels hosts quarterly online "C.H.A.T.S." for volunteers and mentors across the country to attend. They are a resource for volunteers and even prospective volunteers to learn more about child welfare, volunteering, trauma, etc., and how they can make a difference in the foster care community.

These are a great opportunity for volunteers to come together and meet other people who are doing this work!

"In this Love Box I am an idea generator, a dinner maker and food deliverer, an extra set of hands, a support for our leads, a voice of compassion, and trauma-informed love. It also gives me a chance to work as a team with other loving members, to problem solve, to lead from love, and to practice selflessness."
